

STOCK RECOMMENDATION - JANUARY 18, 2021

MARKET REVIEW

For the week ended January 15, 2021.

- The Nigerian equities market ended the previous week on a positive note as the All-share index gained 2.63%WoW to settle at 40,176.14pts. Hence, the YtD return stood at 2.25%.
- All sectoral indices closed on a positive note, led by the Insurance Goods index which gained 17.48%, largely due to the price uptick across most counters in the sector.
- JAPAULGOLD maintained its bullish streak, closing up for the second consecutive week this year (+56.70%). CUTIX, however, topped the losers' chart, shedding 12.92% WoW to close at NGN0.20.
- Positive investors' sentiment amid the search for attractive investment instrument fuelled the performance witnessed last week.

MARKET PREVIEW

For the week commencing January 18, 2021

- The global economy is set for the commencement of the Biden presidency on the 20th of January 2021. With this comes his plans to improve vaccination across the United States, extend pandemicrelated limits on evictions and student loan payments and the proposed USD1.9trn COVID-19 relief spending plan.
- On the domestic front, the persistent increase in inflation (15.75% YoY in December 2020) and the bearish sentiment in the secondary market for treasury instruments suggest that equities could continue to witness strong buying interest.
- We, therefore, expect sustained bullish momentum this week, without ruling out possible selloffs at the start of the week.

Investment Ratings

Fair Value Estimate

We estimate stock's fair value by computing a weighted average of projected prices derived from discounted cash flow and relative valuation methodology. The choice of relative valuation methodology (ies) usually depends on the firm's peculiar business model and what in the opinion of our analyst is considered as a key driver of the stock's value from a firm specific as well as an industry perspective. However, we attach the most weight to discounted cash flow valuation methodology.

Target Price Estimate

While we believe that the fair value is underpinned by the future benefits stream and growth outlooks, which are primary drivers of value, the market might not align to the fair value estimate within the estimated investment horizon. Thus, we do not derive our target price from the fair value but from a trading perspective using the year projected earnings or book value and the respective target multiples. Notwithstanding, we are of the opinion that the variance between the two should not be too significant.

Ratings Specification

- BUY: Target Price of the stock is above the current market price by at least 10 percent
- HOLD: Target Price of the stock ranges between -10 percent and 10 percent from the current market price.
- SELL: Target Price of the stock is more than 10 percent below the current market price.

Definitions

Price Targets: Price targets reflect in part the analyst's estimates for the company's earnings. The achievement of any price target may be impeded by general market and macroeconomic trends, and by other risks related to the company or market and may not occur if the company's earnings fall short of estimates.

Asset allocation: The recommended weighting for equities, cash and fixed income instrument is based on a number of metrics and does not relate to a particular size change in one variable.
